School pool repair money will go elsewhere

WUSD pools will stay closed; $410,000 settlement for damage to old high school pool will mostly help elementary school campuses

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

School board members from Washington Unified School District last week approved a $410,000 settlement from the Lower Northwest Interceptor Project. The settlement covers damage caused by the sewage line project as it tunneled through the former River City High School campus on Clarendon Street. Administrators said work on the sewer line caused cracks in the tennis and basketball courts and in the swimming pool at the former high school.

But the money won't go to fix the pool, said Scott Lantsberger, Assistant Superintendent of Business Services. The old RCHS pool (and the pools at the district's former middle school) are now closed and filled with dirt, and the old RCHS tennis courts are closed as well. As the News-Ledger has reported, the school district closed the pools to summer use and drained them because of budget problems.

So what will the $410,000 be used for?

"The first thing it's going to pay for is to decommission the pools," Lantsberger told the News-Ledger. "We're talking about somewhere between $120-$150,000 for that."

The leftover funds will go into repairs and improvements at the campuses now occupying the old sites, he added. Those schools -- Westmore Oaks Elementary and Riverbank Elementary -- are busy "transitioning" to new sites that teach from kindergarten through the eighth grade.

Creating a uniform uniform policy at WUSD

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Local public school students from kindergarten through eighth grade will be subject to standard school "uniforms" next school year. The policy basically requires students to wear white, collared shirts or blouses (or school-logo shirts) and either navy blue or khaki pants, shorts or skirts.

The school board of the Washington Unified School District gave "direction" to school staff last month to implement the policy.

"I've been advocating for it for about a year," said board member Matt Stegman. "We need consistency in the uniform policy."

School uniforms make for better learning, he said.

"The Long Beach Unified School District was the first major district in the country to go to school uniforms. They found that it enhanced school safety and improved learning. It's a positive difference and it's something we can do to save families money."

Stegman said that several local schools had policies for school "uniforms," but sometimes the policies varied from campus to campus.

"If children were 'overflowed' from one school to another, they had a different uniform," he said.

The new policy will be mandated, with "progressive discipline." A letter from WUSD to parents said that the policy will reduce "behavior that negatively impacts the school" and "shift the focus from what children are wearing to what children are learning."

WUSD will "work closely with Target and Wal-Mart to ensure they have the appropriate uniform in stock," added the letter from Superintendent Steve Lawrence.

Students with good behavior will "earn" the right to "free dress Fridays" -- as long as their Friday clothing meets the district's general dress code policies, the district told parents.

For details of the policy, parents should refer to the letter from WUSD. Anyone with questions about the policy is asked to call Gretchen Mounier, Director of Pupil Personnel Services, 375-7600

Practicing with foam

West Sacramento firefighters from Station 43 went to the Sacramento International Airport's fuel storage facility, or "tank farm," on June 16 to practice dousing fires using foam spray.

Engine companies from throughout the Sacramento region trained in fighting a simulated fire at a 90-foot wide tank of combustible liquid at the airport.

Pictured in the foreground is the "foam trailer" paid for by the federal Homeland Security department for use by Sacramento regional fire departments. The trailer is stored at West Sacramento's Station 43 at Harbor Boulevard.

Separated by decades, but honored together

The "Yolo County Sheriff's Memorial," dedicated last week in Woodland, joins two men joined by tragedy even as they are separated by more than half a century. The plaque is located at the sheriff's department, 2500 East Gibson Road.

On the plaque are images and text commemorating the service of Deputy Sheriff Walter John Leinberger and Deputy Sheriff Jose Antonio "Tony" Diaz. Both were killed in the line of duty while working for the sheriff's department.

Leinberger was shot and killed on Nov. 18, 1943, in the town of Bryte (in what is now northwestern West Sacramento). The deputy, accompanied by his wife, was trying to serve an arrest warrant when the subject shot and killed him. The gunman was then tracked down to Sacramento and shot by law enforcement officers. The county jail, Leinberger Minimum Security Detention Center, was dedicated in Leinberger's name in 1991.

Deputy Diaz was killed last year, on June 15. He was shot by a felon after a vehicle pursuit in the Yolo town of Dunnigan. He posthumously received the department's highest award for bravery, the "Gold Medal of Valor." He had become a sheriff's deputy

Under new management —

The newly remodeled, affordable residential complex, Courtyard Village, officially opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on June 11 at 3429 Evergreen Circle in West Sacramento.

Once known as Harbor Park Apartments, the complex had a problematic history of ineffective management and code violation problems. Under new ownership by CFY Development, Courtyard Village contains 296 newly renovated one- and two-bedroom apartments, after $32.2 million in investment from CFY Development and $2.5 million from the city. The facility is also providing educational and recreational activities for its tenants. CFY recently converted Sacramento's Globe Mills into new residential lofts. (From the City of W. Sac.)

Remembering my dad on Father's Day

Note: Another Father's Day has come and gone, and although my dad passed away a few years ago, I thought I'd re-run the following column, which I wrote more than 15 years ago, about the good, decent and hard-working man I was proud to call my father.

I wonder why it is that so many of us have such great difficulty telling those closest to us that we love them? And why is it fathers and sons seem to run into this particular problem with more regularity than just about anyone else?

With Father's Day just around the corner, I was talking to a longtime friend the other morning about these and other questions. He explained to me that he had what he considered to be a pretty normal relationship with his dad.

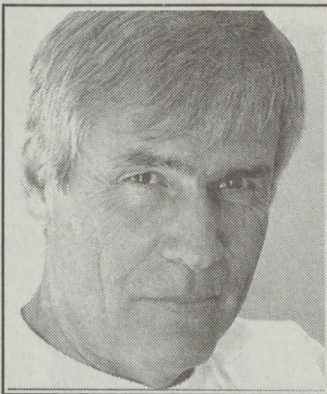

"We talk about the weather, fishing, how the Giants are doing, stuff like that," he said. "Nothing more serious?" I asked.

"Now," he answered. "The last real deep talk my dad and I had was when I was a teenager and he was trying to explain the birds and the bees to me. And that went so bad we both more or less agreed not to talk about anything too serious ever again."

Later that evening, I received a call from the same friend and he said, "Daryl, I think I gotta solution to your problem."

"What problem?" I asked with interest. "You know, the one you have with your dad."

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

"But I don't have a problem with my dad," I exclaimed. "It's just that I wish we....."

"Look," he interrupted, "I have a suggestion. This year, instead of just sending him another one of those Father's Day cards that your wife picks out for him, why don't you get really brave and tell him you love him, and do it in writing, in one of those little stories of yours that you write in the newspaper."

"Are you kidding?" I asked. "He'd die if I did that. I'd die if I did that!"

"I'll tell you what," said my friend, "if you fess up to the way you feel about your dad, come Father's Day, I'll do the same with mine."

"Oh no you won't," I said. "I know you better than that. Either you or your dad are going to have to be at death's door before one of you even lets on that you like each other, much less love each other."

There was a lengthy pause, then a deep, throaty laugh. "You're right," admitted my friend, "but I bet I've talked you into writing that column about your dad, haven't I?"

My father is retired now, but for almost forty years he worked at the old Southern Pacific Railroad shops in downtown Sacramento. As a kid, I was never exactly sure what he did there, but it had something to do with fixing big train locomotives, and I was pretty sure it was probably one of the best jobs in the whole world.

He would leave for work a lot earlier than I left for school, and he came home late in the afternoon, tired and not very talkative. He'd eat dinner, usually watch one TV show (Bonanza, Sergeant Bilko, and the Ed Sullivan Show were among his favorites) and then go to bed early because he had to be up again at the crack of dawn because he was the one who always volunteered to make the morning coffee for all his buddies at work. His job was important to him and he rarely missed a day's work — maybe a half-dozen or so in all of those forty years.

The days fathers and sons spend together tend to blend into each other when looking back on them, but there are a few moments which stand out for me. Like the time he took me to see the Sacramento Solons play the Hollywood Stars at old Edmonds Field. Although those two teams and the field of dreams they played on no longer exist, to this day, I have never seen a more thrilling baseball game. It was a masterful pitchers' duel, with neither team able to score a run until Harry Bright (my favorite Solon) finally hit a long home run over the left field fence with two men out in the bottom of the 12th inning to win the game for the home team.

My father isn't a big baseball fan and I'm sure he had taken me to the game because I had been begging him to do so for ages. But as he and I and a handful of loyal Solon fans filed out of the stadium, I just had to ask him if he had ever seen such an exciting game.

"I'm glad you enjoyed it," he said, "but exciting? We sat there in those lousy uncomfortable seats for five hours and they scored one damn run? What the hell was exciting about that?"

So, like most fathers and sons, my dad and I haven't spent all of our days together on the same page, but he's always been there when I needed him, made sure I had everything else the other kids had, and hugged me tighter than anyone else when I left for Vietnam.

So Happy Father's Day, Dad. I love you, and I wanted to mention it, "in the living years."

Yolo health dept. urges awareness of HIV

From the Yolo County Health Department

Saturday, June 27, is "National HIV Testing Day," a national campaign to increase awareness about the importance of knowing your HIV status by getting tested, and is coordinated by the National Association of People with AIDS (NAPWA-US). Each year, NAPWA encourages people who participate in activities that put them at risk for contracting HIV to "Take the Test, Take Control" and seek HIV testing and counseling. Early treatment is the key to control of HIV.

While there are no formal events planned for National HIV Testing Day in Yolo County, HIV testing is an ongoing program sponsored by the Yolo County Health Department and its community partners. Several sites in the county offer free, confidential HIV tests. Many do not require a blood sample. Individuals interested in receiving an HIV test can contact the following agencies: Yolo County Health Department, 137 North Cottonwood St., Woodland, CA 95695, (530) 666-8550, call for appointment

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

The NBA draft has finally arrived for the talent starved Sacramento Kings who have the No. 4 overall pick in the 2009 draft. The Kings also have two other tantalizing first round selections that are of interest around the NBA.

This year's draft will be televised live from New York on Thursday (4:30 p.m.-ESPN) but you can attend a free party at the Arco Arena. The Sacramento Kings are inviting all fans to attend a special 2009 Kings Draft Viewing Party at ARCO Arena on Thursday, June 25, from 3:30-6:30 p.m.

Newly hired head coach Paul Westphal will gather with General Manager Geoff Petrie, and the Maloofs to consider their options to improve the Kings last place finish from the 2008/09 season. The Kings, who have some salary cap room in their budget, could trade their top pick or picks for a couple of proven veterans.

Some NBA teams will be trying to dump high price salaries trying to help their clubs adjust to the economic times the nation is currently facing. It's rumored the Celtics are shopping Ray Allen and Rajon Rondo to anyone who's interested in picking up Allen's $20 million dollar expiring contract. The Shaq attack is also interested in trading jerseys and joining King James in Cleveland.

The Kings have many needs to improve their young roster but the point guard position seems to be on the top of the list of things to do! Spanish point guard Ricky Rubio continues to receive all the press but the flamboyant guard still has two-years remaining on his contract with his European team DKV Joventut. Rubio would have to buyout the last two years of his deal which is rumored to be around $6 million dollars.

Selecting Rubio could be a huge gamble because the Kings are only allowed to chip in $500,000 by NBA rules. Rubio's agent assured the Kings that they have negotiated a reasonable buyout from the Spanish team.

So the big question for Kings fans is who will be selected with their top pick? The Kings have flown in the top guards in the nation for private workouts and could even take 7-foot-3 center Hasheem Thabeet, if the UConn center falls to the fourth pick. Point guards Tyreke Evans (Memphis), Stephen Curry (Davidson), and Jonny Flynn (Syracuse) have worked out for the Kings with Evans believed to be the odds-on favorite amongst the Kings staff.

The draft top player in the draft, in my option, is Oklahoma's Blake Griffin who should end up wearing a Clippers uniform. The second player picked (Memphis) should be Hasheem Thabeet while the Oklahoma City Thunder have the third and most important pick in the draft.

The Thunder could trade their 3rd pick because a few teams are hot on Ricky Rubio and would love to move up in the draft. Don't be surprised if the Kings shock their fans with a last minute trade. The Kings could package a couple of their picks or trade the once untouchable Kevin Martin.

I still love Stephen Curry as the Kings top pick because the kid is the best pure shooter in the draft who can also play the point guard position. K-Mart is a good player with excellent trade value but Martin seems too fragile and doesn't play much defensive plus he's always hurt and never seems to finish the season without a trip to the disabled list.

In reality, it doesn't really matter who the Kings pick this year because their still a couple of year away from being a legitimate playoff contender so I would love the Kings to package Martin with the dead weight contract of Kenny Thomas and make a blockbuster trade.

With a couple of bold moves, the Kings can continue to build the team for future especially with the 2010/11 season when all the top free agents become available. Can you say Dwayne Wade, Chris Bosh, Steve Nash, Chris Paul or even King James himself!

Kings Korner

The Kings have announced Westphal coaching staff for the coming season. Offers have been accepted by Mario Elie, Jim Eynen, and Truck

Robinson. Also longtime special assistant Pete Carril is returning for another season.

Diamond Notes

The Giants (37-32) continue to surprise teams with their all pitching and no-runs lineup. The Giants have already brought up anybody with a power bat from their Fresno Triple-A team to rescue the middle of the order but they still are the lowest run producing team in the Major Leagues. Look for outfielder, John Bowker, who is batting .341 with 12 HR's for Fresno, to return the G-Men soon.

The Oakland A's (31-38), who are only six games behind the division leading Angels, continue to struggle but somehow manage to win games with their make shift line-up made up mostly with River Cats players.

The Giants and A's are currently playing each other this week but the Giants will be traveling to Milwaukee this weekend while the A's host the Colorado Rockies.

River Cats

The River Cats (45-25) increased their lead to eight games over the second place Fresno Grizzlies. The Gatos are being led by infielder/outfielder Eric Patterson who is on a mission this month to return to the A's. Patterson leads the team in several offensive categories. Patterson hit his second lead-off homer of the night in Fresno last week to bring the River Cats to a total of eight home runs in one game. Patterson has been particularly potent in the last two series, going 16 for 29 with 10 runs scored, two doubles, two triples, three home runs and seven RBIs. Patterson is hitting .476 in his last 10 games and .560 in his last five games.

The River Cats will be home for four games against Colorado Springs before they hit the road on Saturday, June 27th for a four game series in Las Vegas.

Korner Kicks

The USA team surprised the soccer world with an upset win over Egypt, who is the African Nations top team. United States needed to win by three goals and Italy needed to lose by 3 goals for the Americans to advance to the next round of the Cup. The USA pulled off a 3-0 win over Egypt and Italy collapsed in a 3-0 loss to Brazil to provide the Red, White and Blue a berth in the Confederations Cup semifinals.

Now the Americans advance to a semifinal meeting (Wednesday, 11:25 p.m. - ESPN) against Spain, the No. 1 team in the world. The USA is also gearing up their best players for next month's CONCACAF Gold Cup, the championship of North and Central America and the Caribbean. The USA also has a World Cup qualifier match on August 12th in Mexico City. The United States is currently in second place behind Costa Rica in their qualifying bracket.

Another bit of news for Soccer fanatics like me! ESPN has won the rights to broadcast 46 live Premier League matches in the United Kingdom for the 2009-10 season, and has also been awarded a contract for the 2010-13 seasons. ESPN's 46 live games will be split between Saturday evenings and Monday nights in the coming season. Goooooal!

PUBLIC NOTICE MERCY HOUSING, INC. AMERICAN RECOVERY AND REINVESTMENT ACT NEIGHBORHOOD STABILIZATION PROGRAM PUBLICATION DATE: JUNE 24, 2009

MERCY HOUSING, INC. IS SEEKING PUBLIC COMMENT ON A DRAFT APPLICATION FOR NEIGHBORHOOD STABILIZATION PROGRAM (NSP2) FUNDING UNDER THE AMERICAN RECOVERY AND REINVESTMENT ACT OF 2009 (ARRA). FINAL APPLICATION FOR FUNDING MUST BE DELIVERED TO THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT BY JULY 17, 2009. For detailed information regarding ARRA programs, please visit www.hud.gov.

Mercy Housing, Inc. will apply for NSP2 funds, on behalf of a non-profit consortium comprised of the following members: Mercy Housing Lakefront, Mercy Housing California, Intercommunity Mercy Housing, Mercy Housing Idaho, Mercy Housing Southeast, and certain local government agencies (collectively, the "Consortium").

Through this competitive application process, Mercy Housing, Inc. will request a portion of the $2 billion appropriated by HUD for the NSP2 Program. Any award of NSP2 funds will be administered by Mercy Housing, Inc., as the lead applicant. Funds will be used for carrying out proposed program activities designed to stabilize neighborhoods in targeted geographic areas whose viability has been and continues to be damaged by the economic effects of properties that have been foreclosed upon and abandoned. It is anticipated that this effort will create more affordable housing and renew neighborhoods devastated by the economic crisis.

The Consortium desires to utilize funds to target and reconnect neighborhoods; invest in projects or programs that will revitalize targeted neighborhood(s); and reconnect targeted neighborhoods with the economy, housing market, and social networks of the community and metropolitan area as a whole.

The Consortium proposes to rapidly address the decline of targeted neighborhoods which have been negatively affected by abandoned or foreclosed properties through the purchase and rehabilitation of foreclosed or abandoned homes and residential properties, for the purpose of selling, renting, or redeveloping such homes or properties. All NSP2 funds will be either leased or sold to individuals earning one hundred twenty percent (120%) of the Area Median Income. At a minimum, twenty five percent (25%) of NSP2 funds will be used for purchase and redevelopment of abandoned and foreclosed-upon homes and residential properties to house individuals and families whose incomes do not exceed fifty percent (50%) of Area Median Income. Qualifying income data effective March 19, 2009 may be found at: <http://www.huduser.org/DATASETS/nsp.html>.

Although Mercy Housing, Inc. is submitting a consortium application, on a national basis, certain local communities have been targeted for stabilization efforts. The "target geographies" in which the proposed NSP2 activities will be carried out are shown below:

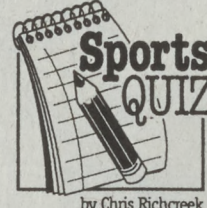

City of Roseville, City of Winters, City of Fairfield, City of Suisun, City of Marysville, City of Lincoln, City of Woodland, City of West Sacramento, and some of the unincorporated areas of Placer County, El Dorado County, Yolo County and Yuba County

A copy of the Consortium's draft NSP2 application is available on Mercy Housing Inc.'s website (www.mercyhousinginc.org). Any individual, group or agency wishing to comment on the proposed application may submit such comments in writing to be received by 5 P.M. on July 4, 2009. Comments may be e-mailed to: Deborah Hughes (dehughes@mercyhousing.org), or mailed to: Deborah Hughes, MHI Public Comments, Mercy Housing, Inc., 1999 Broadway Street, Suite 1000, Denver, CO 80202; or faxed toll-free to: 1-866-746-4800. All Public comments will be summarized and responded to in the final NSP2 application which will be posted on Mercy Housing, Inc.'s website (www.mercyhousinginc.org). This Non-Profit Consortium Project is a Fair Housing Equal Opportunity Project.

DON'T TOUCH: bats, other wild animals carry rabies risk

From the Yolo County Health Department

A Yolo County youth recently underwent rabies prevention shots, or prophylaxis, after handling a bat that tested positive for rabies. Health authorities are concerned that the rabies prevention message is not getting to the public. "Unfortunately, we see lots of cases where young people or even adults pick up and handle sick or dead bats without using protective measures," states Bruce Sarazin, the Yolo County Health Department's Director of Environmental Health. "There is no way for someone to know if these sick or dead bats have rabies unless the animals are tested in our lab," Sarazin adds.

Animals are tested each year for rabies in Yolo County. In fact, Yolo County tallied 21 rabies-positive animals in 2008 – all of them were bats. This number of rabies-positive animals is the highest in the State. Although Yolo County tests several dogs, cats, and other animals each year, bats continue to top the list of rabies-positive animals.

Being able to test the animal is important. Rabies is 100 percent fatal, but is also 100 percent preventable, either by avoiding contamination or by receiving the prophylaxis quickly following the bite or exposure. Being able to test the animal after someone has been exposed can determine if they need to receive the prevention shots.

"Yolo County has one of the largest bat colonies in California, and with that distinction, our residents need to take extra precautions," states Dr. Joseph Iser, Yolo County Health Department Director-Health Officer. "While these animals serve an important ecological role, they can also be carriers of a deadly disease." According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), most of the recent human rabies cases in the United States have been caused by rabies virus from bats.

There are several instances every year in Yolo County where individuals have found bats in a room in their house and have let the bat go. They are unsure if the bat has touched them or bitten them. Because the bat is unavailable for testing, they have then had to undergo the series of prevention shots.

All residents of the County are warned to avoid not only direct contact with bats but especially those that are sick or are showing abnormal behaviors, such as lying on the ground or being out during the daytime. Any bats, healthy, sick, or dead, that have come in contact with people, pets or livestock should be isolated and contained for testing whenever possible. Bats found inside your home should be contained and reported, even when you're not sure if direct contact has been made with the animal. Reports should be filed with the Health Department immediately at 530-666-8646 or Yolo County

Animal Services at (530) 668-5287.

Other wild animals in our area known to carry the rabies virus are skunks and foxes. Wild animals should not be kept as pets. It is very important to report any contact or bites from warm-blooded animals to the Health Department as soon as possible. Pet owners are advised to vaccinate and keep current rabies vaccinations of their dogs and cats.

For more information about bats and rabies, please view the Center for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) informative brochure on the Yolo County Health Department's website at <http://www.yolocounty.org/org/health/bulletins/bats.asp>.

HYPOCRISY THY NAME IS HARRISON

Sincerity and prohibition are as far apart as the North and South poles of the earth.
Hypocrisy and prohibition travel hand in hand like twin sisters.
Christ said, "Woe unto you Pharisees and hypocrites."
On Wednesday, September 14th, Mrs. Asunto Da Prato of Washington, mother of seven young children, was sentenced by Judge R. W. Harrison of Woodland to pay a fine of $500 with a suspended sentence of 60 days in the county jail for selling some wine to Constable Ike Clover of Woodland, and a hired detective.
That evening or rather the following morning at 2 a. m., Judge R. W. Harrison of the sanctimonious and puritanical town of Woodland was arrested for playing craps in the Burns Hotel and two days later paid $100 fine for the offense after pleading "guilty."
The judge, mind you, pleaded guilty of gambling.
Guilty of breaking a State law.
And it was that same judge who on the same day fined the poor mother of seven children $500 for selling some wine to two men who posed as cattle buyers or exhibitors at the State Fair.
And that poor mother does not read or write the English language and probably never heard of the Volstead Law.
Hypocrisy and prohibition travel hand in hand like twin devils.
Come on, Home Alliance and W. C. T. U. Volstead.

INDIGNANT HOME-OWNERS MAKE LOUD PROTEST AGAINST DAMAGING PUBLICITY

When the Sacramento Star posted large placards on the dead walls of Sacramento and Washington yesterday announcing the publication of a serial story on the "Jungles of Yolo," loud protests could be heard on all sides from the home owners and taxpayers of Washington.
Indeed, it was well that no representative of the Star happened to be around, for, Lord knows, what would have happened to him.
The placard measuring about 2 1/2 by 5 feet announced:
JUNGLES OF YOLO
Where thousands of "gay cats," "blanket stiffs" and other hobo types, together with idle workmen "beating their way" in search of a job, spend a night or two on their way in or out of Sacramento.
"The Jungles" is the latest and best story by Reporter Fred V. Williams of the Star. A thrilling adventure story of hobo life, etc.
Many decent, clean and respectable families make their homes in Washington. They resent any such announcements, especially those concerning "gay cats" and "blanket stiffs" and call attention to the nests of "gay cats" that have lately been raided by the police of the Capitol City, even in the business and residence sections of Sacramento.

No matter how clever the story written by Fred V. Williams may be there is a home pride in every family in Washington that must not be dragged in the mire and while the story may not be bad in itself the method of announcing its publication is bordering on an insult, if not absolutely insulting.
The newspapers of Sacramento should say nothing about the "gay cats" of any other community. Christ did not chastise the prostitute nor did her accusers throw rocks at her.
"Blanket stiffs" sometimes have money and many a dollar goes out of the "jungles of Yolo" to the merchants of Sacramento.
As said above, the story may be good, but its method of announcement is bad. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

GREAT DAMAGE TO ROADS DONE BY TRUCKMEN

On complaint of many farmers in the Clarksburg district, Supervisor Leinberger has taken action to prevent further damage to the county roads in that district.
After he had spent a big sum to build a new oil and crushed rock road in the Clarksburg district, four outside truckmen, according to the officers, completely wrecked the road by hauling overloads. Aroused by a complaint from farmers, the alert Motor Officer Elmer B. Cook slipped down to Clarksburg last Friday and arrested four of the alleged law violators.
Cook said that they were each carrying two tons more than the weight allowed by the law.
Officer Cook learned that when the road was first completed, it was as smooth as a paved highway and solid. The trucks could make as fast as 30 miles an hour over it. Friday Cook could not ride his motorcycle over the road faster than 6 miles an hour. "The roadbed is cut to ribbons," said Cook.
Lately more than $3000 had been spent by the county in putting the road in good shape.
The speed cop declared that had he been notified sooner he would have caught the truckmen with greater loads, as the road became so cut up that they had to lighten their cargo. The road is 1 3/4 miles in length. "None of the truckmen ordered into court pay taxes into the county treasury, and all of them have been making big profits hauling sugar beets from Clarksburg," said Officer Cook.
Justice of the Peace George Colby will mete out the sentences. Sentiment against the defendants is strong. The names of the alleged truck law violators follow:
Overloaded trucks—C. A. Carbine of Oakland, F. Anderson of Lower Lake, G. M. Lawrence of San Francisco, Paul E. Burg of Oakland.
The road through West Sacramento is also in terrible shape at this writing, scarcely passable for autos or light vehicles.
Nearly all the damage there, too, has been done by truckmen hauling beets to Jefferson station on the Sacramento Short Line.

NAZAROFF CHILDREN TAKEN FROM FATHER BY JUVENILE COURT

At a night session of the Juvenile Court in Woodland last Monday evening Alice Nazarov and her 4-year-old brother were taken from the custody of their father after request had been made by the young girl that her father be removed as her custodian.
A week ago she appealed to Constable Buckingham for protection, who placed her with a neighbor, Mrs. Evanoff. Here, too, the girl claimed her father annoyed her and it was then that she appealed to the Juvenile Court of her own volition. When the case was brought before the court Assistant District Attorney John H. Langenour, who had been investigating the case for several days, learned that the girl was being mistreated. The matter came to a climax when between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock father and children met in court.
The little girl, of more than ordinary sweetness, strenuously objected to further live with her father, a Russian, who fought for her tiny brother, that he too might be taken away from the turbulent home. During the court proceedings the father went over toward his little son, and it was then that the small girl appealed to the court to save her brother from his parent. She fought with her father openly over the custody of the child, who asked to be permitted to go with his sister, whatever her fate might be.
Judge Anderson took full cognizance of the situation, and although the custody of the boy was not before him in particular, awarded him to the custody of the probation authorities, leaving the irate father childless and absolutely alone. Langenour stated that the lack of a few links of evidence is all that saves the father from a serious prosecution.
Last Tuesday Judge Anderson made an order committing both children to the Home at Grass Valley.

WILKES' PLAYERS ARE ENTITLED TO SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE

The Wilkes players have created a furore at the Wilkes Theatre, formerly People's, where they are this week presenting the big mystery play, "A Voice in the Dark," to be followed Sunday matinee, Sept. 25th, with a magnificent production of the comedy of youth, "Smilin' Through," which has proved the biggest success in recent years. The Wilkes Players are without a doubt the finest organization that has ever appeared in Sacramento and are entitled to the support of the amusement going public.

SEVERAL NEW HOMES UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN WASHINGTON

Since a settlement of building troubles has been arrived at several new homes have been started in Washington, Riverbank and West Sacramento.
Peter Ghelfi has remodeled his home at 4th and William Streets at a cost of over $2000, and has just moved into the finished premises.
Across 4th street another new home is under construction and will be occupied in about two weeks.
On William street the property and home of W. T. Austin has been sold to parties who contemplate building several cottages for rent. The Austin family having moved to Sacramento.
On Fourth street, between Anne and Harriett, the Fourness property has been sold and another home on an adjoining lot is being built.
Several homes are being built in Riverbank and several lots have lately changed hands, indicating an activity not seen for more than a year or since building conditions were unsettled.
All bungalows built by the West Sacramento Co. at headquarters have been sold to home owners. These are taking active interest in promoting sales of other lots to their friends.

GUEST COMMENTARY:

Giving teeth a good start

By Barry Chang, DDS
Director of Dental Care
CommuniCare Health Centers

Good oral health is critical for everyone regardless of age. Tooth decay is the single most common chronic disease in children and is reaching epidemic proportions. It also is progressive and won't heal without treatment. Even more seriously, the mouth is a major pathway into the body, so disease originating in the mouth can infect other areas of the body.

Studies show tooth decay affects children's everyday activities and interferes with academic performance. American students miss more than 51 million school hours per year because of dental problems or related conditions. About one-third of California preschool children have untreated tooth decay, and almost two-thirds will have dental decay by the time they reach third grade. Untreated tooth decay can cause pain and infection, which can lead to problems with nutrition, growth, school readiness and speech.

To help children get the dental care they need, the First 5 Yolo Children and Families Commission contributed $379,000 during the past year to help CommuniCare Health Clinics provide free dental screenings and fluoride varnishes to children ages 0 to 5 in Yolo County and to expand clinic hours for young children and pregnant women. The CommuniCare dental program offers friendly, affordable, culturally sensitive and comprehensive care. The Salud Clinic Dental in West Sacramento offers services in English, Spanish and Russian.

Every child deserves a "dental home" for regular visits and comprehensive family-centered dental care by a licensed dentist. The

There are things -- besides brushing -- that your family can do to help prevent cavities in children's teeth

CommuniCare program helps to ensure parents obtain information and training to teach their children about tooth decay prevention and create a foundation for a lifetime of good oral health.

Children are not born with cavity-causing bacteria in their mouths. Babies and small children can actually "catch" the bacteria from family members and caregivers. Sharing utensils, cups or toothbrushes can transfer "germs" found in saliva from one person to another.

Here are a few things parents can do to help their children prevent cavities:

First dental visit by first birthday- Children should visit a dentist when the first tooth comes in, usually between 6 to 12 months of age. An early examination and preventative care give children a head start on sound oral health.

Fluoride- Fluoride is an important factor for developing stronger teeth and preventing decay. For children who don't drink fluoridated water, fluoride treatments may be prescribed.

Healthy eating habits- Set up a balanced diet for children and limit the frequency and duration of snacks. The longer teeth are "bathed" with starchy carbohydrates or sugary juices, the greater the chance decay will develop. If children nap or sleep with a bottle, fill it with water rather than milk, formula or juice. During waking hours, encourage children to drink from a cup or "sippy cup" filled with water except at mealtime when they should drink milk.

Oral Hygiene- Wipe

baby's gums with a damp cloth after feeding. Start brushing after the first tooth appears, three times a day for one minute with a "smear" of toothpaste for a child under 2 years of age. For 2- to 5-year-olds, dispense a "pea-size" amount of toothpaste. Instruct children not to swallow the toothpaste. Begin flossing once two teeth are touching.

Bottle-Feeding- Children should be weaned from the bottle at 12 to 14 months of age.

Sealant- To prevent tooth decay, a dentist may recommend a sealant, which is clear or shaded plastic material placed in the pits and grooves of the permanent teeth.

Varnish- Dentists can apply a safe and protective fluoride varnish to the teeth of young children. A recent study found that 1-year-olds who had this treatment twice a year were four times less likely to get cavities in their baby teeth.

Yolo County children ages 0 to 5 can get free dental screenings and varnish compliments of the Smile Savers' Program held at CommuniCare Saturday Dental Clinics. These clinics are scheduled throughout the year in various Yolo County locations. Smile Savers is sponsored by First 5 Yolo along with CommuniCare Health Centers. For more information about free dental clinics at the West Sacramento Salud Clinic Dental, call 916-403-2960.

Dr. Barry Chang is the recently appointed Director of Dental Care at CommuniCare Health Centers. CommuniCare is committed to never turning anyone away based on inability to pay and to deliver care in a supportive, safe, non-judgmental manner, stressing patient involvement and responsibility, health education, counseling and preventative health care.

Meals on Wheels is Seeking Volunteers

The Meals on Wheels program delivers nutritional meals to West Sacramento resident seniors via community volunteers. Meals on Wheels is currently seeking meal delivery volunteers to transport meals from their own vehicles. Schedules vary from 1 to 5 days a week based upon volunteers request. Contact Anthony at 373-5805 for more information.

Elderly Nutrition Program (ENP) Offered and Seeking Volunteers

The ENP program offers low-cost, nutritionally balanced meals with a side of friends and socialization. The program is seeking a volunteer to help in the kitchen with assembling food and light kitchen duty. For more information please call Anthony at 373-5805.

Call-A-Senior

Our Lady of Grace Senior Outreach Ministry is starting a Call-A-Senior Caring Program, which provides a phone call each day to seniors living alone in their homes. This service helps gives home-bound seniors an opportunity to speak with someone on a daily basis. Know someone who would benefit from a daily phone call, or would you like this service yourself? Applications are being taken at the West Sacramento Senior Center, 664 Cummins Way, West Sacramento (916) 373 5819.

Country Line Dancing

Swing on down to the Senior Center every Tuesday from 2:00 pm to 3:30 pm and step into wellness. Line dancing is a creative way to get fit and have fun. Donation is requested. Please call 373-5819 for more information.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEW BY DNA SMITH

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Do The Right Thing" — Spike Lee's powerful and amazing film about race relations and prejudice turns 20 this year. (Wow, has it really been 20 years?) The film takes place on the hottest day of summer on a small neighborhood street in Brooklyn. Through a series of small and seemingly minor events, tensions between the African-American residents and a white, Italian pizzeria owner and his two sons build until both sides are ready to draw blood. This two-disc anniversary set contains not only the digitally remastered film and 5.1 surround-sound audio, but also more than four hours of special features. I'd be happy for four hours of Radio Raheem playing Public Enemy from his mammoth boom box.

"The IT Crowd: The Complete Second Season" — "The IT Crowd" is one of the funniest and most brilliant Britcoms ever made. The show revolves around Moss and Roy, the socially awkward tech-support staff of a large corporation. In the second season, the boys meet a German cannibal, watch the gayest musical ever, design the world's best bra (almost) and wreak havoc at their boss's funeral. The DVDs contain outtakes and commentary tracks.

"Eastbound and Down: The Complete First Season" — Danny McBride scores an unlikely home run with this surprising funny and vulgar HBO series. In it, McBride plays Kenny Powers, a washed-up pro baseball player who, after frittering away his fortune, goes back and teaches PE at his old school. The deluded Powers still thinks he has a shot at a comeback — and at his old high-school sweetheart (Katy Mixon), who also teaches at the school but is engaged to the principal. What makes the show appealing is not only the top-notch supporting cast, but the fact that Powers is so obnoxious and unlikeable. And yet, somehow, you keep rooting for the creep.

When March Went Mad: The Game That Transformed Basketball by Seth Davis (Times Books, $26)
By Chris Richcreek

The mega event known as March Madness in men's college basketball had a seminal moment (other than the rise of office bracket pools) that helps explain why it now attracts such a rabid following among sports fans.

That moment was when Magic Johnson's Michigan State Spartans met Larry Bird's Indiana State Sycamores in 1979 for the NCAA Division I championship, a matchup that is still the highest-rated basketball game in TV history.

Author Seth Davis does a great job of filling in the details surrounding that clash in the book "When March Went Mad." The CBS studio analyst skillfully weaves together two sets of stories, one involving Johnson and Bird, and the second involving their coaches, Michigan State's Jud Heathcote and Indiana State's Bill Hodges, two men who never made it back to a Final Four after 1979. Hodges, who was in his second season as head coach, would be gone from the ISU post a mere three years later.

Davis' book sheds light on key members of both teams, the personal histories of Bird and Johnson, and how a number of changes resulted from their meeting, including the rise of ESPN and the rebirth of the NBA.

One of the most illuminating points comes at the book's ending, a description of how Bird has never quite got over the loss to Johnson, despite their later friendship. An emotional Bird told an Indiana State crowd in 2004, "Hell, Magic was just too tough."

It's the kind of detail that helps secure Davis' spot as having written the definitive book of Bird and Johnson at the apex of their college careers.

Velkommen Pie

Looking for the perfect dessert for your Fourth of July picnic? Well, look no further! This pie is only sinful in taste, as it will let even the diabetics at your picnic enjoy dessert.

- 1 (6-ounce) Keebler chocolate pie crust
- 2 cups (2 medium) bananas, sliced
- 1 (4-serving) package Jello-O sugar-free instant vanilla pudding mix
- 2/3 cup Carnation Nonfat Dry Milk Powder
- 1 1/4 cups water
- 1/4 cup Peter Pan or Skippy reduced-fat chunky peanut butter
- 3/4 cup Cool Whip Lite*

- 1/4 cup (1 ounce) chopped dry-roasted peanuts
- 1 tablespoon mini chocolate chips

Place diced bananas in pie crust. In a medium bowl, combine dry pudding mix and dry milk powder. Add water and peanut butter. Mix well using a wire whisk. Blend in 1/4 cup Cool Whip Lite. Pour mixture evenly over bananas. Refrigerate for about 10 minutes.

Evenly spread remaining 1/2 cup Cool Whip Lite over pudding mixture. Sprinkle peanuts and chocolate chips evenly over top. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours or until ready to serve. Cut into 8 servings.

HINT: To prevent bananas from turning brown, mix with 1 tablespoon lemon juice or sprinkle with Fruit Fresh.

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 cans (15 ounces each) tomato sauce
- 1 cup red wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup light molasses
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire
- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon ground red pepper (cayenne)
- 2 (3 1/2 pounds each) chickens, each cut into quarters, skin removed if you like

1. In 10-inch skillet, heat olive oil over medium heat. Add onion and cook until tender, about 10 minutes. Stir in tomato sauce, vinegar, molasses, Worcestershire, brown sugar and ground red pepper; heat to boiling over high heat. Reduce heat to medium-low and cook, uncovered, 45 minutes or until sauce thickens slightly. If not using sauce right away, cover and refrigerate to use within 2 weeks.

2. Reserve 1 1/2 cups sauce to serve with grilled chicken. Place chicken quarters on grill over medium heat; cook 20 to 25 minutes, turning chicken once. Generously brush chicken with some of the remaining barbecue sauce; cook 20 minutes longer, turning pieces often and brushing with sauce frequently until juices run clear when chicken is pierced with tip of knife. Serve with reserved sauce. Serves 8.

1. Place half the onions in the crockpot. Add the meat and then the rest of the onions. Pour the salsa and the water over and the pork and the onions.

2. Turn the crockpot to the HIGH setting for 4 to 5 hours or on the LOW setting for 7 to 9 hours or until the pork is tender and can be shredded easily with a fork.

3. Remove the pork and onions from the crockpot and discard any remaining liquid and accumulated fat. Let the meat cool slightly. Shred the pork, using two forks. Mix together the barbecue sauce, vinegar, mustard, brown sugar and salt until well-combined.

pork with a scoop of coleslaw on the sandwich or on the side, along with some baked beans, corn on the cob and sweet, lemon-flavored iced tea, and you'll have the makings of a Southern-style barbecue no matter where you live!

BARBEQUED PULLED-PORK SANDWICHES

This recipe is a great way to tenderize an inexpensive cut of meat and conserve energy by using the crockpot. The salsa infuses the meat with flavor while it cooks, and the barbecue sauce is the perfect finish. You'll have enough pulled pork to feed a crowd, or you can freeze any leftovers for another fabulous meal!

- 5 pounds boneless pork butt, cut into 2-inch chunks
- 2 large onions, sliced
- 1 jar (16 ounces) Pace Chunky Salsa or Pace Pineapple Mango Chipotle Salsa
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 bottle (16 ounces) barbecue sauce
- 1/4 cup apple-cider vinegar
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 24 hamburger buns

4. Mix the shredded pork and onions with the barbecue sauce. Return the barbecued pork to the crockpot and cook on HIGH for another hour. Serve about 1/2 cup shredded pork in each roll. Top with coleslaw, if desired. Serves 24.

Pulled Pork Is Perfect for Fourth of July

My father was born and raised in Winston-Salem, N.C., the perfect place to find a delicious pulled-pork barbecue sandwich. The Piedmont triad area where he grew up is famous for its pork barbecue and highly seasoned, vinegar-based sauces. Pigs are plentiful in that area of the South, so barbecues featuring the whole pig — split open and roasted over a hardwood charcoal fire, or using just the pork shoulder — are popular. After the meat is cooked, it's "pulled" off the bone by hand, sliced, shredded or chopped into pieces, mixed with barbecue sauce and served on a bun.

Pork shoulders are the front leg of the pig and are fairly inexpensive cuts of meat. The shoulder includes two cuts: the Boston butt, which is a rectangular roast from the upper part of the front leg, and the picnic shoulder. The Boston butt is the cut of choice for pulled-pork sandwiches.

Select a Boston butt that has a white-fat cap and is marbled with fat throughout the meat. The fat and the collagen (the connective tissue) "baste" the meat as it melts away. The collagen also turns into simple sugars that make this typically tougher cut of meat moist, tender and flavorful as it slowly cooks.

Pulled-pork barbecue sandwiches were used to entice potential voters to attend political rallies. These flavorful sandwiches definitely have my vote. This crockpot recipe for pulled pork is perfect for anyone who can't barbecue the traditional way. Serve the pulled
